For the information of those who neglected to pick up their new Ration Book No. 4 during distribution week, the ration administration of the W. P.T.B. has instructions for latecomer applicants. The green application card at the back of the old ration book (marked RB 101) should first be filled out in pen and ink and signed by the holder. Then this card should be taken from the old book, placed in an envelope, and mailed to the nearest local ration board or to any branch of the ration administration. The new ration book will then be mailed to the applicant as soon as possible. Ration officials pointed out that application should not be made in person as local ration boards are not authorized to issue new books to late comers. Application cards should be mailed only.

Demand Motor Funds For Highways

Renewal of demands that all motor revenues should be earmarked for highway construction and maintenance in the province is planned by the Alberta Motor Association.

A provincial director who returned recently from a visit to Montana reported that the state has $800 million of hard surfaced roads. Of particular interest to Alberta car drivers is the fact that in Montana it is necessary to spend all motor revenues on highway improvements and maintenance. The state has to do that in order to qualify for U.S. federal road appropriations.

Officials of the A.M.A. point out that this province with 200,000 more people than Montana undoubtedly could have had several thousand miles of hard surfaced roads now if millions of dollars in motor revenue had been used entirely for highway purposes, instead of being taken into the general fund of the province.

These improvements could have been applied to the entire highway system of the province, giving Alberta better secondary and market roads as well as main highways. Before the provincial government considers its highway estimates for 1947, the A.M.A. will make vigorous representations to have all motor revenues set aside specifically for the purpose of building better roads, thus meeting the instant demands of Alberta citizens and visiting tourists.

Tremendous Interest In The Bill Of Rights

Interest in the Alberta Bill of Rights is growing by leaps and bounds as the date set for its hearing before the Supreme Court of Canada approaches. It was stated by L. P. Davis, Director of Publicity and Promotion with the Provincial government, "We have received many thousands of requests for copies of the Bill," he said, "both from Alberta and from other sections of Canada. It has been a terrific job to answer them. Altogether over the past two months more than 120,000 copies have been mailed out."

Passed at the last session of the Alberta Legislature, the Bill of Rights proposes to set up a Board of Credit Commissioners responsible for the control of credit policy within Alberta. Its terms guarantee every Alberta citizen over 19 years of age an annual income of not less than ten hundred dollars based on the 1945 price levels. Education and medical benefits are also provided under the act. It is proposed that the whole structure of financial policy in Alberta be founded upon the limitations of the natural resources of Alberta and the productive capacity of the people.

The Bill goes before the Alberta Supreme Court on September 30th, so as to determine its validity. Each term will be considered by itself, it is stated and if any of them are ultra vires they will be changed to conform to the Constitution.

Almost everyone by surprise since the evening was quite warm. It was after midnight that Jack Frost struck. The bright sun Monday soon showed out everything.

Need for care in using kerosene lanterns for recreation, types of fuel is noted by authorities. People in the U.S. have been suffering from lead poisoning due to burning discolored battery cans. Authorities advise against putting on the fan anything not specifically designed for burning, because of the possible emission of noxious fumes or even an explosion.

A Challenge To All Canadians

During the war years, many people took part in a mild controversy concerning the method of selling Victory Bonds. Ranged on one side were those who believed that maximum sales called for vigorous action—the enthusiastic use of press, radio, parading, contests, public addresses and intensive personal contact by hard driving salesmen. In opposing ranks were those who believed that Canadians did not need this so-called "bullphoo" to arouse them into action—that citizens of this country were intelligent and would buy bonds just as freely without benefit of these stimulants.

That controversy was never settled in wartime. But the sale of Canada Bonds in October may reveal in a small way the merits of the belief that Canadians know how to help themselves.

The forthcoming bond offering will not only the urgent sales atmosphere of Victory Bond issues nor the use of the vast air force which used to knock at practically every door in Canada. Except for the organization of payroll sales by employers and a partial coverage of the general public by the staffs of investment dealers, citizens will act strictly on their own volition. They will make up their own minds about buying and how much they shall buy.

Of course it will not be just to compare the results of past Victory Loans with the results of Canada Savings Bond sales. Behind the purchase of Victory Bonds was the desire to perform a patriotic duty, to take an active part in winning the war, as well as the desire to build up a reserve of savings. In wartime, the government of the people urged Canadians to buy all the bonds they could afford. Now, citizens have but one reason to buy Canada Savings Bonds—to help themselves; to carry on the habit of saving money; of building up a greater personal security, in the same way they found so beneficial in war days. And this time there will be no great sales pressure, and no urgent appeal by the government to buy for the sake of the country.

The sale of Canada Savings Bonds will truly be a challenge to test the degree of initiative possessed by individuals of this country in their own interests.

The Value Sugar Industry To Alberta

In Southern Alberta's "sugar bowl" the annual harvest of over 100 million pounds of sugar is just getting underway. The next few weeks will spell a period of anxiety and hard work for the army of several thousand workers who will be responsible for harvesting and processing the sugar beets. However, it may well be asked does this multi-million dollar industry mean anything to the rest of Alberta?

Enough sugar is produced in Southern Alberta to supply the requirements of all Alberta, all of Saskatchewan, and most of Manitoba and still have some to spare under present rationing. This means that, because of the sugar industry, several million est amounting to $1,735.00 each year and payable on the 1st day of September in each year during the currency thereof.

All or any of the debentures shall be redeemable at the option of the Town of Gleichen on the first day of July in any year following the payment of the twentieth annual instalment.

CERTIFIED A true copy of a proposed by-law which has been introduced and which will be finally passed by the Council within four weeks from the date of the assent of the proprietary electors thereto.

The vote of the proprietary electors of the Town of Gleichen duly qualified to vote on the said by-law shall be taken on the 28th day of October, 1946, at the Community Hall, 4th Avenue, in the Town of Gleichen, from the hour of ten (10:00) o'clock in the forenoon to the hour of Seven (7:00) o'clock in the afternoon of the same day.

The Returning Officer shall at the Community Hall, Gleichen, on the 28th day of October, 1946, at the hour of Seven (7:00) o'clock in the afternoon sum up the number votes for and against the result thereof.

W. J. PHYTHIAN,
Returning Officer.
Dated at Gleichen, Alberta this 11th day of September, 1946.

dollars flow into Alberta annually from her sister provinces and their money finds wide distribution through transportation systems, manufacturing and distributing canals. There are more carloads of sugar products moved through Lethbridge each year than there are carloads of coal. In addition the coal consumption of the two sugar factories contributes considerably to the miners' steady payroll.

To mention only one of the many secondary industries associated with sugar production, a livestock finishing industry built around sugar beet by-products is rapidly expanding thus providing ranchers with a ready market for their feeder stock and subsequently supplying our packing houses with quality stock for processing and distribution. It also requires several million dollars to adequately evaluate this tertiary industry.

The General Motors Corporation of America has set aside a considerable sum of money for research in labor saving machinery for sugar beet production. This is because a survey showed that in several sugar beet counties of Colorado there was a higher percentage of automobiles per capita than in any other comparable area in United States. Similar reasoning would indicate that there are few Albertans who do not reap some benefit from the sugar beet industry in addition to the 70 pounds of sugar per person which they consume annually.

The Salvation Army

Enlargement of The Salvation Army's field to include rural areas in Canada under the Rural Service Unit plan, announced in April, is now being proceeded with, it was announced by Lt. Col. Charles Tuttle, Salvation Army National Public Relations Department head.

"This is a broad gauge, long range plan to eventually broaden the activities of The Salvation Army to small communities where there are no social service facilities," said Col. Tuttle. "Organizational personnel is being instructed in and assigned to this understanding. In the next few years we hope to have Rural Service Units in hundreds, possibly several thousand, rural communities in Canada."

The plan involves the setting up of committees of citizens to work with The Salvation Army in meeting rural social service needs. Special attention will be paid to the health of children. The trained personnel of The Salvation Army and its institutional facilities for those of all ages and both sexes will be available to units.

"A portion of the $2,000,000 fund it is hoped to raise in Home Front Appeal, campaigns across Canada this year is to be applied to Rural Service extension," said Col. Tuttle.

In more than 300 districts the Appeal is now being held. Preliminary reports indicate very satisfactory public support by newspaper editors and radio stations and to them Col. Tuttle expressed his deep thanks.

"Financial help for The Salvation Army's work comes largely from the professional and working classes, there being few large donors of funds," he said. "To all who have helped or will help we are truly grateful, with Salvation Army humanitarian activities being carried on at an annual loss now exceeding $1,000,000 I can assure supporters that they are sharing in work that is of great social importance to Canada."

Colonel Tuttle is retiring at the end of October after 38 years as a Salvation Army officer during which he served in appointments from coast to coast.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strong.
UNREST AMONG FARMERS
There is considerable unrest among our prairie farmers—and well there might be. Most of them are not satisfied with the present price they are receiving for their wheat. Farmers are beginning to feel they are paying too many subsidies to too many other people. Here are the facts:

Our farmers alone are subsidizing Britain at this moment to the tune of 50 cents a bushel on 160 million bushels a year. Is this fair?

The Canadian Government is subsidizing between 20 and 30 cents a bushel from our farmers—based on the price the government is actually receiving for the wheat they are selling—and withholding this 20 to 30 cents for five whole years. Is this right?

Our farmers are subsidizing all Canadians on 70 million bushels of wheat, used in Canada as flour and bread, for at least 30 cents a bushel (the difference between $1.25 and $1.55). In addition our farmers are paying their share of the taxes re-

The List That Shows Who and Where

If you are an EATON customer there is a stamp on your name and address at EATON'S Mail Order in Winnipeg. Your stamp, with hundreds of thousands of others, makes up the mailing list. Space is a problem, but the hard job is keeping this list up to date. It would be easy for people just revalued the stamp; but they grow up, marry, die and about 7,000 of them move to new addresses every month. To keep track of all these changes requires the time of a large staff. You can help, too, by notifying us of any change of address. All this work is done so that EATON'S customers receive EATON'S Catalogue regularly.

required to allow millers to buy wheat for home consumption as flour and bread at 77 and three-eighths cents a bushel. Is this just?

I for one agree with our farmers that these price disparities, so discriminating against wheat growers, are neither fair, nor right nor just. They should, therefore be immediately corrected. The government can remove these discriminations overnight. Why don't they?

Vary your chores. Unwieldy application to one phase of labor makes for dullness and falling efficiency. The experts declare that, while work probably never killed anyone, a change is as good as a rest, and there should be variety to add spice to everything it work and play.
